Re-thinking Drinking

The 2017 Re-thinking Drinking variety show was a great success with large group of students, parents and their friends attending.

The evening began with Tahlia Moses and Chelsea Medwell, performing a small gymnastic piece and then performers, Maddy O'Brien and Alissia McClure, performed some impressive songs.

The message from our College nurse Linda Elkington was powerful, reinforcing the need for all of us to take responsibility for trying to prevent unsafe drinking in our society and to support young people to make wise decisions in their adult lives in regard to alcohol. A student film followed Linda's presentation and reinforced this message. The Year 9 Drama students performed an impressive piece which utilized a Greek chorus and told the saga of a "one punch" tragedy, affecting those who had attended a party and had been adversely affected by alcohol.

The variety part of the evening followed and featured, Eliza Spalding and Abbey Copeland, who did a medley of songs and dances. They were followed by the crew from The State Schools Spectacular. The routine was great to see and the hard work they had put in was appreciated by the audience.

The school rock bands were fantastic and then we were enthralled by the teacher rock band and the teacher dance band "No Thank". The audience went wild with these acts and thanks to all the teachers for their lively contributions.

The night culminated with an outstanding performance by Tony Mason. Thank you to all who made the night so special!

Year 9 Banquet

The Year 9 AVID students held their banquet last Tuesday evening. The evening celebrates the achievements and growth of the students over the last two years. Students from Huron and Felltimber together with their families gathered in the Felltimber PAC for the banquet. There were some emotive speeches from the students where they described how AVID had given them confidence, focus and direction.
